

Homework

No home learning over the Christmas holidays.

We do just ask to continue reading. You all have two books to be reading over the Christmas holidays.

Maths

In Maths this week, we completed two assessments for the end of the Autumn term. One on arithmetic and one on reasoning and problem solving. We then went back through with our purple pen to correct any answers we got wrong.

PSHE/RSE

We gave each other compliments to start our PSHE lesson, writing down something we liked about the person sitting next to us. We talked about how this made us feel. We then listened to a story and made comments about how the children involved would have felt during different scenarios.

Science

Forces and Magnets

This week we completed our summary of the unit, recapping on some of the experiments we have carried out.

We then completed our end of unit assessment, checking what we have remembered from this unit.

Christmas Party

We had a fantastic afternoon on Wednesday, with our Christmas parties. We moved around the different classrooms and engaged in different Christmas activities.

We ended the day with a tasty treat and a Christmas dance.

English

This week we completed some Christmassy English lessons. We wrote a description of a winter wonderland, imagining we were walking through it. We also wrote some questions to interview one of Santa, Rudolph, or an elf. Finally, we wrote some instructions on how to either, make a snowman, wrap a present or decorate a Christmas tree.

House Quiz

We had a great time in the hall for our House Quiz. We answered lots of different questions, for all the subjects that we've been studying.

Well done to St Julie's for winning the House Quiz. Let's see what that does for the

RE

This week, we chose to either draw some artwork relating to advent or we could have written our own advent hymn.

We looked at lots of artwork and listened to different advent hymns to help inspire us.

We focused on the coming of Jesus, showing what Christmas is all about.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Thank you very much for our lovely cards and gifts; that was very thoughtful of you all.

I hope you all have an amazing Christmas break. I can't wait to hear what you got up to over the holidays.
